THERE is no spectacle today at once so pitiful and so contemptible as that provided by the Communists of the United States and Canada. They persist in saying that Russia is in Finland to rescue the Finns, just as she entered Poland to protect the Poles. They acquiesce in the abolition of religion in Russia and yet they cling to a doglike belief in the infallibility of Stalin, as a medieval saint might cling to his belief in purgatory. They are impervious to reason. They ignore common sense and harden their hearts to compassion, lest they might seem in any way to criticize the action of their Georgian god.

Wreckers of Communism.

They have destroyed, or postponed for a generation, at least, any last chance that the capitalistic States might borrow from communism any good feature it might have. They have so identified communism with Stalinism that the doctrine of Marx must sink with the gangster who betrayed it. They

Camp Life Has Improved In Many Directions

"The camp has become child-centred rather than program-centred, and counsellors are chosen for their knowledge of child-training rather than for their athletic skill," said Mr. Taylor Statton in his address to camp counsellors at the opening meeting of the Camping Education Association at Margaret Eaton School. He traced the development of organized camps from sixty years ago to the present time, showing how camps had improved in equipment, leadership, health, diet and creative programs. Dr. Mary Northway presided.

URGES TEACHERS WITH FAMILIES BE PAID MORE

Dr. Butt Says School
Staff's 'Unduly High'
Pay Boosts Tax Rate

TO PROBE SALARIES

Toronto school teachers with families to support will be paid correspondingly higher salaries than their single colleagues, if Trustee
Dr. William H. Butt has his way.

Last night Board of Education
members voted to create a special investigating subcommittee to eliminate inequalities in teachers' salaries. Members of the subcommittee will be nominated by Dr.
Butt at the board's next meeting.

Trustee Butt cited cases of teachers with second-class certificates receiving $2,400 annually. As many as 561 second-class teachers were receiving $2,200 a year, he said, while those appointed since 1925
were limited to a fixed maximum of $1,500 a year.

"The large number of teachers
getting unduly high salaries is contributing to Toronto's high tax rate," said Dr. Butt. "Only yesterday 305 parcels of property were auctioned off in this city for non-payment of taxes."

Dr. Butt made it plain, however,
that he was not advocating reduction of all teachers' earnings. Married teachers, he said, should be paid more than single men because of their greater responsibilities.

More than half of all Canada's teachers were being paid less than the average salary of beginning women teachers in rural districts of Great Britain, said Trustee H.
Loftus Reid, quoting figures from the report of the research committee of the Canadian Teachers' Federation.

ROBINSON UNIT TWELFTH ANNUAL

Ontario Responds to Emergency Call

TABULATION TASK

A checkup yesterday of registrations of Ontario women with the Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women showed that more than 65,000 in this Province
had volunteered for emergency service, it was reported at a meeting of the Provincial executive.
Of this number more than 20,000
were from Toronto, Mrs. R. J.
Marshall stated. The meeting was the first since registrations were completed. It was pointed out that registration was still open,
and that those women who had not enrolled with the V.R.C.W.
to date might do so by applying to Suite 501, Montreal Building, Toronto.

Miss Margaret Hyndman, director of organization, reported that 1,000 girls were now spending three hours a week tabulating registrations, that another 1,000 would be added to this number next week, and that it was expected that 3,000 girls would be engaged in this work shortly. It is under the direction of Mrs. V.
Moore. Only $2,000 had been spent on the process of securing registrations throughout the Dominion. A finance committee to campaign for funds to the extent of $1,000 outside Toronto, but in Ontario, was appointed, with Mrs.
J. A. Carroll of Brampton as convener.

Names of Dr. Helen MacMurchy,
Lady Diana Taylor and Mrs. J. W.
Bundy were added to the honorary membership. Mrs. James Roberts of Hamilton presided.

was the radio activities of the department." Probably he will act as Mr. Rogers' chief propagandist, paid by the public. And mention of the radio reminds that the present government, even before the election, was unimpaired, was not backward in taking to the air with what was largely propaganda.

Hamilton, criticizes quickly, is up to the mark. Britain has a National government, Canada needs a National government, too, and will get leadership to win the war by supporting Dr. R. J. Macdonald's National Government plan.

Art And Literary Leader Mrs. Geo. Nasmith Dies

Was First Principal of Margaret Eaton School—Spent Extensively Abroad

Mrs. George Nasmith, first principal of the Margaret Eaton School and leader in Toronto art and literary circles for nearly 40 years, died suddenly Friday night from a heart attack. Although she had not been well for the past three years, her death at her home in the Mayfair Apartments, was unexpected.

She was born Anna Scott, daughter of a Methodist minister, Rev. James Scott of Owen Sound, and young woman had children as well as George Nasmith at Toronto and went to Colorado, where she taught painting and married William Bryant East. Upon his death shortly after she returned to Owen Sound with her daughter Dorothy. A year later she came to Toronto to study vocal expression. Here she began her professional life under the name of Mrs. Scott East.

At the Toronto Conservatory of Music she was a pupil of Mr. H. N. Shaw, and after graduation took post graduate work at the Curry School of Expression in Boston and the Gower St. Academy in London. She also studied military with the celebrated Hermann Vixie in London, and pantomime with the greatest exponent of that art, Madame Camille.

AT CONSERVATORY

Returning to Toronto, she was assistant to Mr. Shaw at the Conservatory of Music, then was in charge of a similar department at the Toronto College of Music under Dr. Tupper. Later she opened a school of her own at the corner of Bloor and Yonge streets in the quarters now occupied by the Ladies Club. There she attracted many women to her reading and study classes in Shakespeare and Browning, among them being the wife of General Sir John Gort, of Victoria University and Mrs. Timothy Eaton. At Victoria University she taught expression in dramatic technique and was in charge of physical training and deportment in Abbot's Hall.

Through Mrs. Eaton and Camille Nasmith, Mr. Timothy Eaton became interested in the value of vocal expression and built for her on Bloor street (now 507) a building modelled after the Greek library in Athens, which was called the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression. From 1907 until 1928 Mrs. Nasmith was principal of that school, which became so well known that pupils from all over America were attracted to it.

She was the first authority to read the new plays being published in Ireland by Yeats, Synge, Shaw and others, but she went to Ireland to meet the authors and see the plays done at the Abbey Theatre in Dublin. The first Irish play, The Playboy of the Western World, was staged in Canada, with Mrs. Nasmith in the Margaret Eaton Theatre from the year 1908 onward.

INTRODUCED POETS

She also introduced St. John's, Keats, Keats and many other new playwrights and poets to Toronto audiences. Many famous actors, lecturers and writers were guests at the Margaret Eaton School, among them were Yeats, K. H. St. John, J. M. Synge, Robertson, Mr. Williams, Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, who initiated the Earl Grey Dramatic Competition, Sir Frank Benson, Ben Greet, John Wynne, Macdonald, R. H. Kennedy, Edgar Wallace and many others. In 1922 Mrs. Nasmith was elected to the Royal Society of Canada. She had just been made a Companion of the Order of St. George for distinguished services with the British Army in France, and was then home on leave for a few weeks.

Mrs. Nasmith spent the last three winters in the south of France, in conversation with her husband and the members of their family at Nice.

MRS. NASMITH

Although she has been in poor health for the past two years, her death, due to a heart attack, came suddenly on Friday night. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Robert Trenchard, and four grandchildren, Mrs. Robert Trenchard, Mrs. Robert Trenchard, Mrs. Robert Trenchard, and one brother, Alexander Scott, noted prospector of Northern Ontario.

The funeral will be on Monday, February 15, at 2 p.m., at Timothy Eaton Memorial Church.

Lawyer Disbarred

Under an order of the Registrar of the Supreme Court of Ontario John Gardiner Leslie, barrister, Toronto, has been struck off the rolls. According to a statement served by the Law Society of Ontario at Oshawa Hall to-day, Leslie was found guilty before a magistrate of stealing certain money and sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

WORK STARTED FOR ARMY VOTE

Returning Officers in London Accepts Tenders For 250 Ballot Boxes—Documents Cross Atlantic

London, Feb. 17.—Machinery for taking the votes of the overseas forces in Canada's coming battle of ballots, went into action to-day under the direction of Colonel J. T. C. Thompson, special returning officer.

Colonel Thompson has accepted tenders for 250 ballot boxes—two or more may be needed for the larger of the Dominion's 240 ridings—and selected offices next door in Canada House.

Already ballots and other necessary papers have been sent to the United Kingdom for the taking of the active service vote.

As soon as possible after nominations close March 11 the official nomination list for all constituencies will be tabled to the United Kingdom for the active service electors' information.

By that time a unit returning officer in each case a commissioned officer, will have been named for each battalion, battery and other component parts of the first division of the Canadian Active Service Force.

These officers will supervise the registration of the troops and the issue of ballots. After the completion of this proceeding the men will be individually responsible for seeing they are mailed to Colonel Thompson, or delivered when they are in London on leave.

The actual vote counting will be done by six scrutineers appointed by the political parties.

This will get under way at 6 p.m. local time (1 p.m. E.S.T.), March 28, and counting must be completed within six days. When the complete count of the overseas active service electors' vote is made it will be forwarded to Jules Casagrande, chief electoral officer for Canada, in Ottawa, who in turn will forward it to the returning officers for the various constituencies concerned.

While stump speeches are banned in military front such as Aldershot, there is nothing to hinder electioneering in the various London cantons and hostels frequented by the troops on leave. However, it is likely the troops will keep posted on the election campaign mainly through Canadian newspapers which are crossing the Atlantic in great bulk.

And Tip On W Bought By

"We certainly hope that there is action, because every dollar taken in by racketeering directly benefits Arthur R. Haskell, general manager of the Toronto Better Business Bureau paid to-day, following the recommendation of the Police Commission that provincial legislation be drafted to control charity raffles."

Mr. Haskell explained that T.B.B.B. has a slogan "It's 25¢ past over the telephone—it's 50¢ past over the telephone, it's 75¢ past over the telephone, it's 100¢ past over the telephone."

He explained some of the money by which promoters gain the list names from which they select "suckers" to canvase. One such taken some time ago, contained 1 cards, each three by five inches, which a promoter had paid
